

Yimin Yang has over 18 years of experience in financial risk management, including heading credit and market risk analytics teams for two top 10 U.S. banks (PNC and SunTrus) where he developed enterprise-wide methodologies, techniques and applications for risk modeling and business development.

Dr. Yang is the first Senior Director at the sixth largest risk consulting firm in US. He is responsible for credit and market risk analytics, capital management and anti-money laundering quantitative assessment. His clients include two-thirds of the top US banks. Dr. Yang holds a Bachelor's degree from Peking University and a Ph.D. from University of Chicago. He was a former faculty member of University of Minnesota.